1. Applicants for the new DDR identity documents must have their photographs made first; then they are to obtain application forms (Blaue Karten) from their Hausobleute later. It is thought that the police will handle applicants by street blocks, taking the streets in alphabetical order.
2. One case has been reported of a person whose appointment with the photographer is for early February 1954. Thus it appears that at least some citizens will not receive their new documents until March or April 1954.
